WATER QUALITY REPORT & CONSERVATION

Water Use Efficiency
Water is a precious, limited resource. In the Pacific Northwest, water for our growing population competes with demands for fish protection, agriculture and recreation. Using water efficiently is particularly important during summer months when rainfall is scarce and customer demand is high. The WA State Municipal Water Efficiency Rule required municipal water suppliers to set water use efficiency goals through a public process, which occurs every 6 years. The last update to this took place in 2023.

The following are the water efficiency goals for the City of Oak Harbor Water Utility:

- Continue maintaining distribution leakage at or below 10%. The City of Oak Harbor water leakage for 2022 was 5.1%.
- Reduce family household water use to 65 gallons per person per day on a three year average.
- Continue to reduce irrigation consumption annually through customer education.
